

Strong Winds

Su-Ho thought love is when you love family or crushes, but one day another kind of love came on her list.

Su-Ho woke up to her mother screaming at her "SU-HO IT IS 6:30!" She took a second to realize that she was late. Su-Ho hurried up and got dressed, grabbed her bag and headed to the train. On the train Su-Ho was starving, she was in too much of a rush to eat any breakfast before heading to school and the worst part is her phone was dead so she had no contact with anyone before going to school.

When she got off the train, she headed straight to school, tearing up. A boy noticed Su-Ho's tears and walked over to her. "Hey are you alright?" the boy asked.

She was confused. Nobody ever cared about her, only themselves "Yeah just hungry" she said. The boy handed her a blueberry muffin, and said, "My name is Hye! You can have my muffin. I already had two of them."

Su-Ho smiled as she bit into the muffin "Thanks I'm Su-Ho, by your uniform I am guessing we go to the same school?" Hye said "Yep!" as he smiled. As they walked into school and said their goodbyes and went to their lockers to change out of their outside shoes into their slippers.

Soon the group of popular girls walked up to Su-Ho "Look its little Su-Ho" one of the girls mocked. The main girl named Aria spoke loud, so everyone in the room could hear "How was your walk with your little boyfriend?" Su-Ho brushed aside Aria's words and continued heading to class.

Weeks passed and every day Su-Ho and Hye would walk together to and from school. Aria got worse with the bullying and she would always make fun of her walking with a boy. One day, Su-Ho and Hye were walking to the train station. It was storming. When they were walking on the bridge, the strong wind swept Hye's phone to the ground. When Hye went to pick up his phone, he slipped and fell into the water. Su-Ho screamed and tried to help, but she could not see him. She grabbed her phone and called the police. Su-Ho waited, and waited. Where was Hye?

The next morning she woke up to knock on the door. When Su-Ho answered, the police were standing there. They said, "Hye was found but the winds kept him in the water.” When they left Su-Ho cried, she did not know how much of a friend he was and how much she loved him. Su-Ho slumped to the floor. She called his number just in case. There was no answer.
